

What do employment specialists believe high-quality supported employment looks like?

High-quality supported employment starts with understanding the person

Good job matches matter

Relationships with employers are essential

Supports should change over time

Poor supported employment has consequences